

Kidderminster Arts Festival Gallery 2011

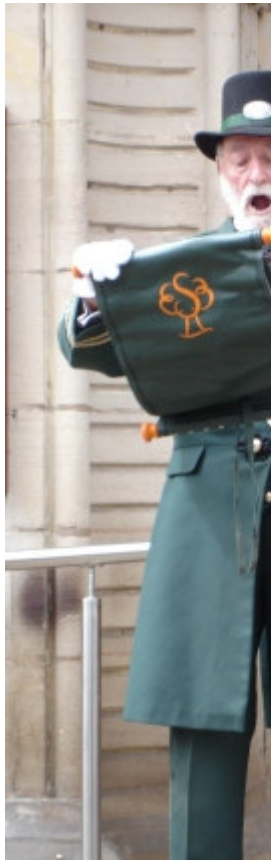

Bruce Airhead

Totally original, high energy family street entertainment that has been performed on three continents... laughed at by the crown heads of Europe... mud splattered in the fields of Glastonbury & enjoyed by everyone. One man and his balloon.

Town Criers Championship

Travelling from across the country, the bellowing voices and glittering regalia of the Town Criers and their partners on parade brought Kidderminster to a stand still. In a battle of the biggest voice, the clearest message and dazzling costume, Criers took to the stage outside the Town Hall and entertained young and old alike.

Dizzy O'Dare

Kenning and his assistant Poppet the Puppet performed on their travelling tight wire. With the audiences encouragement Poppet performed the show of her life! A delightful tight wire show with charming puppet.

Which way is up?

Science in a Suitcase presents Which way is UP? The British Space Scientists attempt to get to the moon one step at a time. This was comedy and science all in one go, you wouldn't have believed it possible.

Musical Ruth

Musical Ruth returned to Kidderminster. If you can imagine Julie Andrews, Liberace and Dame Edna rolled into one then you are somewhere near Musical Ruth. This outrageous nun brought her unique musical blend along with her electric grand piano to the streets of Kidderminster for just one day.

Subway Deluxe 3: Comberton Hill Subway

Subway Deluxe 3 was held on the 19th August and funded by Worcestershire County Council Inroads funding and Wyre Forest District Council.

Graffiti artists from across the country came together to transform the subways at Comberton Hill into lush art galleries. Original works of art have been framed in brilliant gold for all to enjoy. The artists, led by local artist Dom Dunlea created a buzz of activity and the area usually avoided by the public was alive with activity. Please click on the images to enlarge.

Workshops for anyone over 16 years were run by Miss C and IBW at the Boars Head Pub for anyone over 16 years old.
